How to get to BER

The BER can be reached quickly and easily by public transport as well as by car.

Travelling to and from the airport by public transport

By train
All trains stop directly under Terminal 1 on Level U2. From here, you can take the Airport Express every 15 minutes to Berlin Central Station (Hauptbahnhof). The journey takes 30 minutes. There are connections to Königs Wusterhausen (16 minutes), Wünsdorf-Waldstadt (30 minutes) and Potsdam (56 minutes) every hour.

By Suburban train and bus
The suburban train (S-Bahn) also stops at Level U2 in Terminal 1. Six suburban trains per hour connect BER with the capital’s local transport network. The journey to Alexanderplatz takes 44 minutes. You can also reach the Berlin underground station Rudow (U7) in 18 minutes with the closely timed express buses X7 and X71.

→ Terminal 5
All suburban trains also stop at Terminal 5, formerly Berlin Schönefeld Airport. Suburban trains and buses also commute closely between Terminal 1 and Terminal 5. The journey takes 8 minutes. The regional train does not stop at Terminal 5.
The direct way to BER Terminals 1/2 by car is via the A113 motorway, exit no. 8: “Flughafen Berlin Brandenburg”. If you want to go to BER Terminal 5, leave the motorway at junction 7, “Schönefeld-Süd”. The B96a federal road also goes to Terminal 5. From the slip roads to the A113, you can reach Berlin’s city motorway, the A100, within 15 minutes heading north and the Berliner Ring, the A10, within 10 minutes heading south.

Parking
All terminals have parking spaces. There are five car parks (P1, P2, P3, P7 and P8) and two parking areas (P4 and P6) to choose from at Terminals 1/2. You will find ten charging points for electric cars in P8. Terminal 5 has two car parks and a multi-storey car park. Accessible parking spaces can be found in all parking areas. You can recharge your e-car at 16 charging points in P54. Book a parking space online at: parken.berlin-airport.de

Hire cars
Hire car desks are located directly in the T1 arrival hall. You can pick up and drop off your vehicle at the hire car centre. The car hire centre is located in the multi-storey car park P2 and can be reached by foot from the main Terminal 1 in just a few minutes.

You can also book, pick up and drop off rental cars at Terminal 5. The car hire centre is located directly in front of Terminal Section L. Please park your rental car in car park P54 when returning it.
Car sharing
Would you rather use a car for a short time instead of hiring it long term? Car sharing service operators provide their customers with special parking facilities at BER. You will find the vehicles in car park P4 at Terminals 1/2. There are parking spaces from various car sharing providers in car park P56 at Terminal 5.

Please contact the car sharing providers directly to book vehicles. You will find a list of companies at the airport on the page → service.berlin-airport.de.

Getting to and from the airport by taxi

If you arrive at Terminal 1/2, use the two taxi stands North and South in front of Terminal 1 on the arrivals level E0. Departing passengers get out of the taxi on departure level E1. Terminal 5 also has its own taxi stands.

How to get to BER
At the airport

BER airport consists of three terminals: Terminal 1 (T1) and Terminal 2 (T2) are directly adjacent to one another and Terminal 5 (T5) is located in the northern part of the airport.

T1 is the centrally located main terminal. T5 is the former Schönefeld Airport on the opposite side of the airport grounds. It is located about 2.5 kilometres linear distance from Terminals 1/2.

You will find many cafés, shops, restaurants and services in addition to facilities for passenger and baggage handling and security controls in all terminals.

→ Before flying, find out from which terminal your airline will fly!
Terminal 1

Are you a departing passenger? Then level E1 in Terminal 1 is important for you. There, you will find the central passenger information desk, the check-in area and security control. Beyond that is the market square with lots of cafés and shops.

Terminal 1 is BER’s central building. As an arriving passenger, you will find the arrivals area and the baggage claim hall on level E0.

In the public area you will find the Room of Silence on the gallery and access to the observation deck.

There are escalators and lifts to take you down to the airport railway station, which is located on the level U2.
Terminal 2

Terminal 2, directly adjacent to Terminal 1, has two levels. If you are departing from here, go to the security control on upper level E1 after check-in. Beyond that is a duty-free plaza and the connecting bridge to your departure gate.

If you arrive at T2, go to the baggage claim on the level E0. Car hire counters, taxis, buses and the airport railway station are located in Terminal 1, which is only a few minutes away by foot.
Terminal 5

Terminal 5 is located in the northern part of the airport, about 2.5 kilometres linear distance away. This was formerly Schönefeld airport. Take the bus or the suburban train to change between Terminals 1/2 and T5. The journey between the terminals takes 8 minutes (see page 5).
You will also find numerous cafés and shops in T5. It also offers a wide range of services, including car hire desks, ATMs, taxis, buses and a suburban train connection to Berlin city centre.

Use public transport for transferring between Terminals 1/2 and 5. Please allow enough time for this.
BER offers you a wide range of shops, services, bars, cafés and restaurants in all terminal areas. The central market square is located in T1 directly behind the security controls. There are plenty of culinary and shopping opportunities in the gates, too. In the public area, there is a supermarket, pharmacy and other food and shopping services in addition to the tourist information office.

T5 also has shops and food inviting you to stay for a while and relax.

All about baggage

How large and heavy is my hand luggage allowed to be? And my checked baggage? Every airline has its own rules. And then there is the general baggage policy.

Please go to your airline’s counter at the airport with your checked baggage. You will find the counter number for your flight on the display boards in the terminals and on our website. Some airlines have separate counters or even self-service baggage drop-off machines. Oversized and bulky baggage must always be checked in separately.

→ We recommend that all passengers check with their airline before departure to see what further restrictions apply to hand luggage or checked baggage.
Baggage policy
What is/isn’t allowed?

Hand luggage
The size and weight of hand luggage is determined by the airline. The content is subject to general security regulations. Please find out which items you are allowed to carry in your hand luggage before your trip. For example, liquids are only permitted in small quantities. They must be presented separately at the security control. We recommend that our passengers put any liquids in their checked baggage wherever possible.

Checked baggage
Please note your airline’s regulations regarding the size and weight of your checked baggage.

Certain items may not be carried in hand luggage or checked baggage. Please find out from your airline, our website, and the German Federal Police and Federal Aviation Authority websites which items are generally prohibited in your baggage.

Knowing where

Storing baggage securely
You can have your baggage stored securely at BER for hours or even days. Baggage storage in T1 is located on Level U1 (public area). Baggage storage in T5 is located in Terminal Section M Arrivals (public area).
Baggage tracing
You forgot something on the plane or your baggage did not arrive? Then contact your airline or the company it has contracted. Information about baggage tracing can be found at → baggage.berlin-airport.de

Oversized and bulky baggage
Baggage that is too large for the regular baggage carousel is known as oversized or bulky baggage. Find out about any restrictions regarding dimensions and weight, possible registration obligations or fees carrying bulky and special baggage from your airline before departure.

Upon arrival:
You will receive your bulky baggage directly at the baggage carousels and do not have to go to a special counter. Look for the “Bulky Baggage” signs.

Security check

Boarding pass and ID at the ready? Taken your laptop, tablet and liquids out of your hand luggage? Good preparation is everything. Then it will go quickly.

After your boarding pass has been checked, you and your hand luggage will pass through the security check. To do this, please place your hand luggage flat on the screening system’s conveyor belt. Place all metallic objects from your bags and clothes, your laptop, your tablet and your properly packed and sealed plastic bag of liquids in the trays provided. Please also place your jacket or coat in the trays. Please do not enter the scanner until you are asked to do so.

The market square with its shopping facilities and restaurants is located beyond the security check. You can reach your departure gate from here. Find information about your gate on the display boards, our website, or our app.

You must always carry documents with you that allow you to establish your identity and you must be able to show them on request.
Are you arriving at Terminals 1/2? Then find out about your connecting flight’s departure terminal and gate after leaving the aircraft. Follow the transfer signs to make your way to the gate if your connecting flight is also departing from Terminals 1/2.

If you are travelling with checked baggage, go to the baggage claim area after leaving the aircraft and collect your baggage. Check your baggage in again for your connecting flight at the airline’s check-in counters. Upon arrival from a non-Schengen area or departure to a non-Schengen area, you will pass through a passport and security control.

If you have to change between Terminals 1/2 and Terminal 5, you will have to go through the security check in any case. Travel times must also be taken into account. Read more in the chapter „How to get to BER”
